SUCCEEDS CECIL RHODES.

Sir J. Gordon Spragg, Cape Colony's New Premier.

Sir J. Gordon Spragg, who has succeeded Cecil Rhodes as premier of Cape Colony, is another one of the men who have gone to South Africa possessing neither health nor wealth, and he now enjoys both. Thirty years ago he was a newspaper reporter in London. His physician advised him to emigrate for his health, which had been broken as the result of overwork. When he was carried on board of the vessel which bore him from his native land he little thought that he would be premier of the new country to which he was being conveyed. In fact he has been three times premier, being first chosen in 1878 and serving until 1881, and then again from 1880 to 1882. From 1882 to 1884 and again from 1880 until his appointment as successor to Sir Cecil Rhodes, Sir Gordon was treasurer of the colony. The circumstances upon which he first gained the post were similar to those upon which he now returns to power. In 1878 Sir Bartle Frere dismissed the Ministry because of his dissatisfaction with the conduct of the Transvaal rebellion. Three years later he resigned after a fiasco in regard to another rebellion, that of the Basutos.

Natural Question.

A Knight Templar and his family were traveling over the New York Central to attend last summer's convocation in Boston.

The "limited" train was rushing along at the rate of sixty miles an hour, when a five-year-old youngster, who was sitting at the window, was startled by the rush and roar of a passing train, and fell back in his fright. Recovering himself quickly, he looked up in his father's face, and gasped, "Papa, did we swallow it?"

Corn Culture in Boston.

The proposed "corn laws" in the Legislature have brought to light the fact that some 200,000 Bostonians are treated for corns annually. True culture must take care of the feet as well as of the head.—Boston Globe.

No father is the real old-fashioned kind of a parent unless there is a strap hanging behind his kitchen door.
